Letter to Parents

Dear Parents,

Time flies! A few months have lapsed since we started the new academic year in September. Although the joy and festive spirit of X'mas is round the corner, the term examination is forthcoming (9-11, 14-15 Dec). I trust you would see to it that your children would study hard for that. Do remember, play hard, work hard!

You may be interested to know that in a bid to create a more lovely and inspiring learning environment for our students, we have embarked on various improvement works to our campus as part of the initiatives in connection with the Invitational Education. This year, the newly added flourishing Butterfly Flowers on the 2/F corridor may have caught the eyes of the students. What a seasonal blessing for us all to be able to love our school and cherish our plants which are so inviting!

At this time of the season, X'mas trees and spectacular decors already in place have brought festive atmosphere to everywhere in the campus, thanks to the joint effort by our enthusiastic parent helpers and support staff.

Last but not least, don't forget our school theme this year: "Love to Learn! Learn to Love!" Let's continue to join hands to make the difference.

Yours sincerely,

Principal Derek V. M. Yeung
